STORIES FROM THE HOMEFRONT: PENNSYLVANIA AND THE CIVIL WAR OPENS IN SEPTEMBER

The State Museum of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Heritage Foundation are proud to announce the installation of a new exhibit Stories from the Homefront: Pennsylvania and the Civil War, opening at the State Museum in September. The exhibit will showcase objects from the Pennsylvania Civil War 150 Road Show, a mobile museum which traveled the Commonwealth in 2011 and 2012. Artifacts and images from the museum's collection will also be on display. This combination of interactive exhibits and historic objects will give visitors another way to explore Pennsylvania's involvement in the Civil War. Visitors will learn about the crucial role Pennsylvania's industry played in supporting the Union Cause. Women and children on farms and in factories did their part to reinforce the bravery and sacrifice made by the soldiers on the front line. Also highlighted in the exhibit are the less often told stories of Camp William Penn, the largest training camp for United States Colored Troops, located outside Philadelphia, and the Allegheny Arsenal explosion in Pittsburgh which killed more than seventy workers, most of whom were women.

250 Years on the Pennsylvania Trails of History®

Amy Killpatrick Fox

Two historic battles being commemorated late this summer bookend a fifty-year period that started with American colonists fighting to defend British interests and ended with the new United States defending its own interests and sovereignty against British attacks.

BATTLE OF BUSHY RUN 250TH ANNIVERSARY

In July 1763 during Pontiac's War, British forces commanded by Col. Henry Bouquet marched west from Carlisle along the Forbes Road toward Pittsburgh. Native Americans had laid siege to Fort Pitt in a move to break British control and prevent further settlement of lands west of the Alleghenies. On August 5, just east of Bushy Run Station, Bouquet's troops were met by Native American forces and engaged in a battle that lasted until the following day. It was a significant and hard-fought victory for the British and Bouquet's troops reached Fort Pitt on August 10. Visit www.bushyrunbattlefield.com to learn more about Pontiac's War.

The Bushy Run Battlefield Heritage Society has coordinated an expanded program for this year's 250th anniversary commemoration. Selected offerings include

- Saturday, June 15 Jeff Day, curator at the Lincoln Park (Michigan) Historical Museum, will present a program on Chief Pontiac's War Council of April 27, 1763.
- Sunday, July 14 The Bushy Run 5K Trail Run/Walk, co-sponsored with Penn Township Area Recreation Commission, will introduce participants to the terrain where the battle was fought. Half of the proceeds will support other anniversary activities.
- Friday, August 2 The weekend will begin with a lecture by former site administrator Jack Giblin and a performance by the Seton Hill University Pipe Band. At dusk guests will be invited to stroll trails marked by luminaries as a way to honor all the combatants and to visit the encampments of various reenactment groups.

- Saturday and Sunday, August 3-4 Throughout both days visitors will find sutlers and food vendors, historical talks and programs, and British, Native, and Ranger encampments. A reenactment of the Battle of Bushy Run will take place at 2 p.m. each day. At 11 a.m. on Saturday a new monument to all who lost their lives during the battle will be unveiled and dedicated. On Sunday at 4 p.m. the winning tickets for the "Tools of the Trade" commemorative raffle will be drawn. Prizes have been custom-made for the 250th anniversary and are valued at $13,000. Parking both days will be off-site; the last shuttle will leave Bushy Run Battlefield at 5:15 p.m. each day.

On a related note Fort Pitt Museum (www.fortpittmuseum.org) will present a living history program on August 10 marking the 250th anniversary of the siege and the arrival of Bouquet's troops.

BATTLE OF LAKE ERIE BICENTENNIAL

After nearly a decade of increasing hostilities the United States declared war on Great Britain in June 1812. Much of the fighting took place in and around the Great Lakes. In March 1813 Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry arrived in Erie to take command of the fleet then under construction in the harbor. On September 10 nine American ships engaged and defeated a British squadron of six vessels on Lake Erie near Put-in-Bay, Ohio. It was an important victory for the young nation.

For the bicentennial of the Battle of Lake Erie in which the Niagara played such a pivotal role two major events are on the horizon.

■ August 29–September 2

Niagara and her crew will visit Put-in-Bay, Ohio, to participate in a commemoration of the American victory on Lake Erie. The event will culminate with a re-creation of the battle, and Pennsylvania's official flagship will be (with all due respect to the other ships) the star of the show. Visit www.battleoflakeeriebicentennial.com for details about the Ohio event.

■ September 5–8

Niagara will again return victorious to her homeport for Tall Ships® Erie 2013. Eight other ships will join our flagship to commemorate the bicentennial and focus attention on the tradition and craft of tall ship sailing. Scheduled to attend and participate in the evening Parade of Sail on September 5 are Sorlandet (Norway), Lynx

(New Hampshire), Peacemaker (Georgia), Appledore IV and Friends Good Will (Michigan), Unicorn (Connecticut), Pride of Baltimore II (Maryland), and St. Lawrence II (Canada).

The ships will then dock at three locations along the Erie Bayfront where they will host school and public tours, and private receptions. The grand finale on Sunday evening will include fireworks, Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture, and a cannonade salute by Niagara and other tall ships. Visit www.flagshipniagaraleague.org for details and to order tickets.

Six students from Harrisburg's SciTech High School spent Wednesday afternoons this spring as docents for school groups at The State Museum of Pennsylvania. They worked with museum educators to learn about Pennsylvania's mammals and geography. The student docents then developed mini-lessons for the Giant Pennsylvania Map and dioramas in Mammal Hall, as well as hands-on activities presented in Dino Lab.

On March 10, 2013, Washington Crossing Historic Park celebrated Charter Day with the grand opening of its newly renovated visitor center. The renovation and expansion was made possible, in part, with a $400,000 grant from Lockheed Martin. (left to right) Joe Trench, Delaware Valley Vice President, Lockheed Martin; James Vaughan, Executive Director, PHMC; John Godzieba, President, Friends of Washington Crossing Park; and Joan Hauger, Site Administrator, Washington Crossing Historic Park.

The PHMC and Pennsylvania Lumber Museum Associates broke ground on April 22, 2013, for a 7,000-square-foot addition to the site's visitor center. Located in Galeton, Potter County, the museum interprets Pennsylvania's lumber era. The new addition will improve accessibility, expand exhibit space, improve safety and security, and create a new collections storage area.
